

Films of Resistance

May 26, 2018 , 5-10 pm

California Museum, 10th & O

Doors open at 4:00 for this segment

May 26-27, 2018

Tickets & full Film Festival
schedule: www.sapff.org

Tabling & other opportunities:
info@abaslawfoundation.org

Why is Tule Lake called “America’s Worst Concentration Camp”? 12,000 out of 120,000 innocent Japanese Americans dared to protest their race-based World War II incarceration. Resistance at Tule Lake (5 pm) tells their long-suppressed story.

Discussion with director Konrad Aderer follows the screening.

Short documentary by Brandon Miyasaki of this year’s 13th Annual Florin JACL-SV/CAIR-SV pilgrimage to Manzanar, one of ten Japanese American incarceration sites.

The Cats of Mirikitani (8 pm) tells the story of Sacramento-born Jimmy Mirikitani, an artist on the New York streets on 9/11 after he survived incarceration at Tule Lake and renunciation of his American citizenship.

Director Linda Hattendorf introduces her film.

